

"Your program is unique in that it walks you through the entire selling process, from soup to nuts."

R. Marvin Ingram, President

TESTIMONIALS

"If you can manage to schedule your meeting to include Mike Marchev in your program, you will be thanked by 100% of your meeting participants. Believe it!"

John Gaudio, Sales Representative

"Mike Marchev is one of the most, if not the most, refreshing down-to-earth business presenters I have ever had the opportunity to listen to. His ability to connect with his audiences within minutes of his introduction is nothing short of incredible."

Marvin Ingram, President

"Mike Marchev, a master of the stage, captures his audiences from small roundtable presentation to ballrooms filled with thousands of people. Mike has that special ability to adjust his performance from serious to funny while always driving home a valuable message. The audience hangs on every word and departs feeling their time has just been well spent."

Lauraday Kelley, Vice President of Education & Training Vacation.Com

"Right from the opening sentence, Mike grabs and keeps your attention. He is a master at getting people to feel comfortable while absorbing his message."

Catherine Oliviero, AT&T

"... a lot of people talked about how you came out into the audience, clearly making a connection with all of us. I heard that over and over. You brought enthusiasm and excitement to our group and this made an enormous impression."

Pitney Bowes Spokane, WA

"You're program was the most popular of the conference. This just confirms my belief in your abilities to cut through the noise and deliver a meaningful message. You grab people's attention from the moment the session starts and you have the personality to help the audience members understand serious messages."

Dan McManus, Editor

"Mike offers a keen insight into a well mapped territory of sales and customer relations, but in a fresh style. He is funny, charming, entertaining, and engaging. His contribution helped make our Annual Convention an unqualified success."

North American Meat Packers Association

"Mike's words are more than just humorous reminders. He paints a picture that is easy to understand with ideas that are easy to implement. He is truly the "real deal" when it comes to energizing and stimulating your work force."

Joyce Hunter, Manager